

Services & Industries Copyright Licensing

A copyright license agreement is an agreement by which the owner of the copyright grants another individual the right to exercise the owner's rights. This agreement gives the licensee the rights to use copyrighted work as specified in the agreement, which must contain all of the essentials of a valid agreement for it to be enforceable.