Class Action Defense

Over the years, we have defended a myriad of class action suits and are familiar with complex business litigation matters.

Spanning across many industries and phases of class action defense, we provide opposing class certifications, we negotiate swift settlements, and when necessary, we handle all aspects of class action trials

Our experience in this field extends to appellate practice, as we have defended against attempts to have rulings in our clients' favor overturned. The firm's attorneys advise and coordinate with the litigation attorneys within and outside of our firm to help evaluate procedural and strategic advantages and, when appropriate, take class action defense lawsuits to trial.
