Becky Wilson represents property owners, developers, lenders and other development participants with issues related to zoning, comprehensive plans, concurrency, administrative law, Developments of Regional Impact (DRIs), procurement issues, due diligence and property rights. A tireless advocate for her clients, Chambers USA states she "can be tough when she needs to be."

Becky's work focuses on advising clients in the development of high-rise, hotels, planned communities, large "power-centers," mixed-use projects, office buildings and big box commercial projects, projects within historic districts, multi-family developments, student housing, senior living, and affordable housing.

After clerking for a federal judge in Washington, D.C., Becky landed in Orlando, quickly building a reputation at Lowndes for being thorough, outspoken, and a tireless advocate for clients. She ultimately found her niche in land use, collaborating with architects, transportation engineers and local governments to move her clients' projects – and Central Florida – forward. She co-chairs the Land Use, Zoning and Environmental Group.

Undoubtedly, Becky's diligence and activism were responsible in part for her appointment as chair of the Urban Land Institute (ULI) of Central Florida District Council, a global multidisciplinary real estate organization with more than 40,000 members dedicated to the responsible use of land, and creating and sustaining thriving communities.
