Why Join Lowndes?

The business of law is hard enough these days. Collegiality and community matter. See for yourself with a career at Lowndes.

There are lots of great law firms who do interesting and sophisticated work, who have formal mentoring and training programs, who offer competitive salaries and benefits.

Sure, we have some very cool clients in glamorous industries like professional sports, restaurants, space. We have a mentor program, formal and informal training programs, and lots of opportunities to meet clients. And of course we offer competitive salaries, benefits - including an on-site fitness center and several wellness initiatives - and bonus opportunities.

So what makes us different? Our unique, collegial culture and our commitment to the community.

Our Culture

We like each other, we're friends with each other, we support each other, both professionally and personally.

Connections are key. We're connected to each other, to our clients, and to our community.

Commitment To Community

The investment in our community is a fundamental element of our business philosophy, thanks to the example set by founder John Lowndes.

The firm as a whole and our individual attorneys and staff enthusiastically commit financial support and volunteer hours to hundreds of charitable, civic, educational, industry, professional and trade organizations. Many hold leadership positions on the boards and committees of these organizations, and we enjoy working together to help make our community a better place to live, work and play.

And what better place to play than Central Florida, with its abundance of cultural, sports and other recreational activities!
