Greater Orlando Builders Association
05.29.2025

On May 29, Lowndes Shareholder Ryan Scordato will speak at the Developer's Council of the Greater Orlando Builders Association (GOBA). Designed for home builders and developers, his presentation will focus on structuring construction agreements to safeguard project timelines, control costs, and preserve key business relationships.

Scordato is a Florida construction law attorney, representing owners, developers, general contractors, design professionals, and subcontractors. Based in Orlando, he focuses on construction-related legal matters, including Federal and State court litigation, arbitration, lien claims, surety bond claims, and strategic risk assessment for projects of all sizes.
