On November 5, attorney Griffin Giroux will moderate a discussion regarding the upcoming changes to Florida's civil case management rules. The program will feature a panel of three active Orange County judges who will discuss the changes set to take effect on January 1, 2025.

Giroux currently chairs the Orange County Bar Association's Business Law Committee, after serving as co-chair from 2023-2024. Founded in 1993, The Orange County Bar Association has over 3,250 members and has been the primary vehicle for area attorneys to meet, exchange information and provide valuable legal and community services to residents in surrounding communities.

Giroux represents a broad range of clients in commercial litigation matters and internal and government investigations. His ability to digest vast amounts of information, conduct thorough research and understand the big picture enables him to counsel clients on complex issues in a clear and practical way.
