Land Use and Zoning in Florida: From Application to Appeal

Webinar
National Business Institute (NBI)
07.22.2026

Lowndes Shareholder Joe Kovecses served as a presenter during the National Business Institute's full-day CLE program, Land Use and Zoning in Florida: From Application to Appeal, on July 22, 2026.

The course guided attendees through the legal and practical considerations involved in obtaining development approvals, addressing constitutional issues, navigating appeals, and representing clients before local governments.

During the program, Joe presented two sessions, "Land Use and Zoning Basics" and "Meetings, Hearings, and Dealing With Objectors," providing practical insights into zoning fundamentals, public participation in the approval process, and strategies for effectively addressing community opposition during land use proceedings.
