Mix & Mitigate: Mastering Contract Management Technology & Craft Cocktails

Events

Association of Corporate Counsel Central Florida Chapter
09.14.2023

The contract negotiating and management environment is rapidly evolving from the paper based, manual contract management paradigms of the past. The new environment is increasingly characterized as more quickly paced, while at the same time the pressure to “do more with less” is increasing when it comes to support staff. And, further, teams are increasingly distributed and multitasked. All of which leads to increased contract management risk. Technology can be a valuable force multiplier, but it comes with its own risks.

This month’s program, presented by Stephen Thomas, will take a look at:

1. Current trends in available contract management tools
2. Mitigating risks in using technology in contract management
3. Controlling legal costs

After the program, get ready to unwind and enjoy an evening of cocktail craftsmanship guided by a professional mixologist. Learn the secrets behind creating the perfect cocktail (or mocktail) while networking with fellow legal professionals and enjoying delectable bites.
