Orlando, FL – Lowndes is pleased to announce that Shareholder Alex Dobrev has been re-appointed as the vice chair of the Condominium & Planned Development Committee of the Florida Bar.

Dobrev chairs the firm's Multifamily & Condominium Group. Since the recession, he has focused a substantial portion of his practice on distressed properties acquisitions, operations and dispositions. Dobrev has his undergraduate degree from Duke University and his law degree from Georgetown University Law Center.

The mission of the Condominium & Planned Development committee is to provide information about legislative and administrative regulation of condominiums, cooperatives, homeowners' associations and planned developments; to provide expertise and input regarding proposed legislation and regulations affecting or impacting condominiums, cooperatives, homeowners' associations and planned developments; to educate members of the Section as to recent developments in case law, governing statutes and the regulations of the Division of Florida condominiums, timeshares and mobile homes; to cooperate with The Florida Bar's Continuing Legal Education Committee to present educational material about the development and operation of condominiums, cooperatives, homeowners' associations and planned developments; and to provide education and information to enable practitioners to effectively represent purchasers, associations, and developers.

Founded in Orlando, Florida in 1969, Lowndes, Drosdick, Doster, Kantor & Reed, P.A., is a multi-discipline business law firm. Our attorneys represent corporate, entrepreneurial and individual clients across a myriad of industries locally, nationally and beyond our borders, from offices in Orlando, Mount Dora and Melbourne, and through Meritas, an established global alliance of independent law firms offering local insight, local rates and world-class client service.    Normal 0    false false false    EN-US X-NONE X-NONE
