Lowndes is pleased to announce that attorney J. Cole Oliver has been named to the Economic Development Commission (EDC) of Florida's Space Coast Board of Directors.

The Board of Directors help advance the organization's strategic priorities and support initiatives that foster economic growth, business development, and opportunity throughout Brevard County.

Oliver concentrates his practice in real estate and transactional matters, including land use and zoning, purchase and sale contracts, real estate closings, and secured real estate transactions. He also advises clients on contract drafting and review, entity formation, and commercial and business litigation, helping property owners, developers, and businesses navigate legal issues with clarity and confidence.
