Lowndes is pleased to announce that attorney Adam R. Lewis has been promoted to shareholder. Lewis joined the firm in 2014 and works in the Real Estate Department, handling all aspects of commercial real estate transactions.

"We are excited to elevate Adam Lewis to a shareholder at Lowndes. He has distinguished himself through his talent, hard work and dedication to client service and the firm," said Lowndes CEO & President William T. Dymond, Jr. "We congratulate Adam on this well-deserved recognition and look forward to his continued contributions to the success of our clients and firm for years to come."

Lewis focuses his legal practice on advising his clients on the acquisition, disposition, financing, development and leasing of all types of commercial real estate property. He also assists clients with a wide variety of matters related to commercial lending, title insurance, mineral rights and the development of renewable energy facilities. His clients include real estate owners, lenders and developers of a broad array of projects, including retail and shopping centers, hotels and restaurants, golf courses and other resort-related developments, office and medical office buildings, industrial properties, retirement communities, and vacant land. He also works with clients on legal and business issues related to the development of solar and renewable energy projects.
