

Aging Population Continues to Drive Real Estate

Article Lowndes 02.01.2018

Recently, Integra Realty Resources published a report that predicts overall growth in today's senior population. The aging population will be a significant tailwind for real estate industry. According to the report, investments, inventory and rent will grow in the years to come. Take a look below at the staggering statistics.

If you have any questions about real estate growth and how this affects your business, please contact Shawn Rader or any member of our Senior Housing Group.

Related Attorneys

Shawn G. Rader

Related Expertise

Senior Housing