

Insights

Senior Housing Communities Struggle to Balance Budgets Among Inflationary Pressures

Gray Area of the Law Blog
05.16.2022

It comes as no surprise to anyone in the senior housing industry that the one-two punch of staffing challenges and inflationary pressure on the cost of goods is creating challenges for operators. Senior Housing News recently highlighted how many communities are dealing with the ever-shifting marketplace – from revising budgets on a quarterly basis, to joining group purchasing organizations to try and save on supply costs, to coming up with innovative staffing models. Leaders in the industry are having to be more innovative and creative than ever before.

Read about those efforts here: <https://seniorhousingnews.com/2022/04/28/price-isnt-right-operators-get-creative-as-labor-food-blow-up-budgets/>

Related Attorneys

John D. Ruffier

Related Expertise

Senior Housing