Lowndes

Top 10 Anticipated Trends in Senior Housing for 2022

Gray Area of the Law Blog
01.04.2022

Senior Housing News recently published its predictions for the top ten trends that will affect the senior housing industry in 2022.

It is an interesting list and includes some fascinating strategies that senior housing owners and operators are using to address COVID and staffing shortages, as well as anticipated trends in pricing and demand for memory care. It is well worth a read to see where some of the most "in the know" in the industry see things heading.

Related Attorneys

John D. Ruffier

Related Expertise

Senior Housing